HISTORIC FOURTH

City Recalls Fun, Fireworks

Fourth of July in Cameron will be quiet compared to years past when City Park heard brass bands and orators in patriotic eloquence. Fireworks will clatter and the highway will be heavy with traffic, the modern holiday picture.

Cameron Country Club will try for an old fashioned July 4th atmosphere with contests, barbecue and fireworks display.

J. D. Lewis of Buckholts recalls his father telling of the Belton band coming to a Fourth of July picnic in Cameron in the late 1860s. The road to Belton went past the Lewis home at Corinth and the band camped there enroute. The band gave an impromptu concert at the campsite that lasted until past midnight.

In 1895 The Cameron Herald reported that the Fourth of July picnic was a success with bicycle races, baseball game, speeches, and a band, but complained that the basket lunch was not sufficient and suggested a barbecue be planned for the next year.

Over 3,000 people from all over the county were on hand for the 1936 July 4 picnic. Candidates for Congress and county offices spoke from the pavilion at City Park and at night the Temple band played for a dance.

The bands got bigger, and so did the crowds.

A 45-piece band played for the Fourth of July celebration at Penn's Camp Ground on the San Gabriel River in 1916. It was the Odd Fellows Boys Band from Corsicana.

Patrol Set For Holiday Traffic

Highway patrolmen were set for heavy traffic over the July 4 holiday weekend which begins Wednesday, July 3, until midnight Sunday.

Highway Patrolman Milton Wright said two extra units would be on duty in Milam County for the four-day period. He said weekday traffic on all highways was heavier than last summer with a corresponding increase in minor accidents.

A rest stop at City Park, usually manned by Cameron Boy Scouts, will not be available for highway travelers this year. The popular rest stop has brought letters of thanks from tired travelers since it started several years ago. Felix Matula, troop leader, said the Scouts will be in camp over the 4th of July holiday, but would have the rest stop on a later holiday.

Mrs. Thelma J. Horelica of Rt. 1 Buckholts was injured in a two car accident Wednesday near Pettibone.

Mrs. Horelica, driving a 1967 Chevrolet north on FM 498, was hit by William Hanson of Rt. 5, Temple who was driving a 1966 Ford east on SH 190.

Mrs. Horelica was taken to Newton Hospital for treatment of face lacerations.

Patrolman Wright said both cars received extensive damage.

Wright said only one minor accident at Gause Sunday night had been reported during the weekend rains.

CHILDRESS DIES; SERVICES FOR CITY REALTOR

George Childress, former president of the Cameron School Board and Cameron Rotary Club, died at 5:30 p.m. Monday at the home of his daughter in Houston.

Mr. Childress, 63, was born July 24, 1899 at Wills Point, Texas. He was a retired real estate and insurance agency owner and a veteran of World War I.

Funeral services were at 10 a.m. Wednesday at Marek - Burns Funeral Home in Cameron with Rev. Ben Pierce officiating. Burial was at 3 p.m. in the Wills Point Cemetery.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Faye Childress of Cameron; one son, George Childress of Houston; one daughter, Mrs. Charlotte Wiggins of Houston; two brothers, Dr. Delbert Childress of Giddings and Fred Childress of Temple; and two grandchildren.

Pallbearers were Paul Laake, John Eanes, Dr. A. E. Kruse, W. L. McIntosh, Lester Williams, and P. J. Armstrong.

Weekend Storms Raise June Rains To Near 30 Inches

Rainfall for the first half of 1968 has set a new 10 year record in Cameron and promises a good year for cattlemen with lush pastures and a plentiful stock of water.

Official rainfall measured through June 26 totaled 29.35 inches. This compared to 1965 when 27.04 inches of rain set a new record.

Weekend storms dropped 4.99 inches of rain on an already drenched ground and brought more warnings for the Central Texas area. One tornado was sighted at Silver City, about 5 miles north of Cameron, but did not touch ground.

Official temperatures and rainfall in Cameron the past week were:

Property owners in the new sub-district of Elm Creek Watershed Tuesday went 134 for, 72 against a $900,000 bond program which will bring an additional $7.9 million in district and federal funds.

Elm Creek officials are elated over the result, the third election on a proposition of building water control dams throughout parts of the four-county watershed. This time seeking 62 structures between Temple and Cameron north of SH 26.

Two previous elections in the past 10 years had failed.

This election was held for a sub-district tabbed Water Control District No. 1 within the larger Elm Creek Watershed, voting at the Edwin Psenick store, Red Ranger community.

A. E. Matula, L. T. Slavik and Frank Kratochvil, all of Cameron and directors of the Watershed, expressed broad satisfaction at the result and appreciation for what voters had done for the area.

Matula, now executive director of Cameron Urban Renewal Agency, said: "I realize the voters of Elm Creek Watershed realize something had to be done in harnessing the Elm Creek and tributaries."

Said Slavik: "I just wanted to say we're proud of the people for coming out and voting today and voting like they did."

And Kratochvil: "I'm proud of the people of the district. I think they can go out in a few years and see what a wonderful thing they have done for the area."

Carl Young, conservationist with Soil Conservation Service, said he recognized that "the gate had just been opened", real work is ahead.

Other directors and officers are Jim Redden, authority chairman, A. A. Stavino, of Temple; Robert Hoelscher, Cyclone and Red Ranger; A. C. Akridge, Troy; Edward Coufal, of Oscar; and E. A. Perria, of Cameron, now mayor of Cameron.

Perrin said one lady was in town and commented Tuesday on the heavy rains, saying she was going to vote for the proposition because of water standing in the cotton fields.

The project, expected to take about eight years, will include 62 structures on Elm Creek tributaries, a 20,000-acre flood plain.

Experts say one major flood and five minor ones occur each year in the area.

More than 15 miles of channel on lower Elm Creek Watershed will be improved.

The subdistrict will add $2.3 million to the $300,000 bonds voted Tuesday and the federal government will grant $5.6 million for construction. Farmers Home Administration will provide financing for administration of contracts and getting easements.

AWARD... OFFICERS - A. W. McCullin, member of Noon Lions Club, presents Preston Tucker, of Cameron, a Lions International Outstanding Farmer Award. Looking on is Mrs. Tucker. Presentation was at a dinner for new officers Friday night for both Cameron noon and evening clubs. At right, Harold Love, Lion from Rockdale and a director of Lions Crippled Children's Camp, Kerrville, presents gavel to incoming Lions presidents (evening) Charles McGregor and (noon) Rev. James Laferty. Standing in rear, from left, are: noon officers Gene Smitherman, 3rd vice president; James D. Camp, 1st vice president; Bernay Dusek, 2nd vice president; and Dr. John Martin, secretary-treasurer. Evening officers Richard Burke, 1st vice president; and Phillip McCall, secretary-treasurer. Unavailable for a picture were Jack Tumlinson and Durwood Cobb, evening 2nd and 3rd vice presidents respectively.

Yanks Lead ...

Rain Dampens LL Play

'Rain, rain go away' was the baseball players' blues with three of five games rained out as Little League action goes into the second round.

The Yankees took a one-game lead last Wednesday to pace the league with a 4-win, 1-loss record. They are followed closely by the Indians who have 3 wins and 1 loss.

Two of the Indian games against the Colts have been rained out. Also, the June 20 game between the Cardinals and Bears was called as well as the June 24 game between the Yankees and Cardinals.

Little League officials and managers reconvened the field Tuesday in hopes that the remaining schedule could be maintained and the cancelled games could be made up before the season ends July 22.

YANKEES - INDIANS

The Yankees began the second of three rounds of Little League games June 19 by defeating the Indians 7-2, the only Indian loss of the season.

In the first round the Indians won over the Yankees 5-4, which has been the only Yankee loss.

Scoring for the Yankees were right fielder Inesimo Sanchez and third baseman Jeff Smitherman with three runs each. Catcher Gene Kopriva scored the other tally.

By F. M. L.

Look what good all the guff got us!

Elm Creek's Watershed finally hurdled 10 years of apathy and flood blindness to carry 2 to 1 for construction of 62 dams.

This is just another of the major steps taken by Cameron area and Central Texas in solving solvable problems.

Those voters between Cameron and Temple can be proud of their decision. It is timely in view of the tremendous rains and flooding of 1968 thus far.

109-109-109

Imagine in a few years what $2.2 million in dam construction, flood control and Elm Creek widening will do for that area.

Imagine all the damage gone before which could have been prevented and could have forestalled the leaving of some of those farmers whose margin went down Elm Creek.

Imagine what can continue to happen throughout the Milam-Central Texas area if minds are kept open, if minds anticipate need before the imperative of disaster, of washout, of economic demise overcasts the sky.

FARM SAFETY WEEK

Agriculture currently ranks third among the nation's industries in accidental death rate. In 1967 about 8,000 farm residents were accidentally killed and nearly 750,000 more suffered disabling injuries. Traffic accounted for about 40 percent of the deaths, followed by farm work and home accidents. The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council is asking all rural residents

Texline, in the northern part of Texas, is closer to the capitols of Colorado, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Kansas, and Wyoming, than to Austin.

MISS STAFFORD WEDS CHARLES BRADLEY JR. IN FORT HOOD CHAPEL

Miss Leslie Stafford and Charles Bradley Jr. were married Saturday evening in the chapel at Fort Hood. Chaplain Paul Cassibry read the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Robert B. Stafford of Copperas Cove and the late Sgt. Robert B. Stafford. She is a graduate of Copperas Cove High School and is employed at the Fort Hood Exchange.

The groom is the son of Mrs. Donald P. Adams of Austin and Charles Bradley of Killeen. He is the grandson of Mrs. Emma B. Langdon of Cameron.

Given in marriage by her brother, Robert B. Stafford, the bride wore a formal A-line gown of silk organza over peau de soie adorned with peau d'ange lace and fashioned with a high rise bodice, Sabrina neckline and long sleeves. Lace bordered the hemline on the wateau train.

An organza flower of seed pearls held her English illusion veil. Her bouquet was of spring flowers in shades of yellow, centered with a white orchid.

Miss Donna Stafford, sister of the bride and maid of honor, wore a formal yellow organza gown trimmed in lace and embroidered in daisies.

Scott Langdon Bradley was his brother's best man. Ushers were John Windham of Killeen, Ronnie Wilburn of Copperas Cove and Robert Crabb of Killeen.

In September the couple will move from Killeen to Austin where the groom is a senior at the University of Texas.

WASHINGTON D.C. The following letters were recently answered by the Department of State.

Panama Canal Treaties
As a retired Civil Engineer from the Panama Canal with 35 years service, I deplore the secrecy surrounding the new Panama Canal treaties, and urge that all provisions of these Treaties be made known to the American people before ratification by the Senate is even considered.

The 1903 Panama Treaty created the Republic of Panama. American knowhow, perseverance, and hard work under Col. Goethals created the Panama Canal. American sanitation engineers, under the direction of Dr. Gorgas, changed the Isthmus of Panama from a fever ridden pest hole to a healthy place to live. Including the bases and fortifications on the Zone, the American people have $5 billion invested in this project.

The Canal is essential to our security and should be kept under our jurisdiction. During the summer of 1945 half a million troops were redeployed from Europe thru the Canal to the Pacific.

The shut down of the Suez Canal by Egypt demonstrates how important it is to the free world that the Panama Canal remain in responsible U.S. hands, and open to all nations.

W.B.G.
Santa Paula, Calif.

Dear Mr. G.:
The treaties were published in the Congressional Record on July 17, 21, and 27, 1967.

In drawing up the new treaties, our negotiators were guided by President Johnson's statement of September 24, 1963. This statement sets forth the United States' objectives in seeking new treaty arrangements with Panama. The fundamental interests of the United States require the Canal to be operated and defended effectively and to be always open to ships of all nations on a non-discriminatory basis with reasonable tolls. We believe these interests are protected by the new treaty arrangements. We will continue to be responsible jointly with Panama, for the administration, management and operation of the Canal. We will maintain forces and military facilities on the Isthmus for the defense of the Canal.

It is in the best interest of both the United States and Panama to eliminate the differences between us by negotiation of treaties which recognize the legitimate interests of both countries now and in the future.

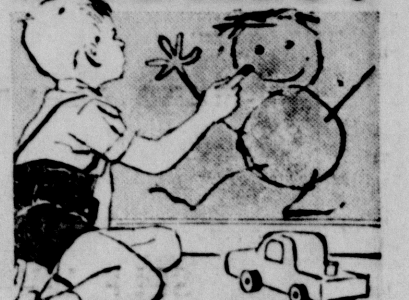

TERRITORIAL SEA
I know that we changed the breadth of the territorial sea to 12 miles in 1958 but I do not know the official date of this change or the reasons for the change. I would appreciate any information on the questions. Thank you for your help.

T.W.
Santa Barbara, Calif.

Dear Mr. W.:
The United States has always maintained a three nautical mile territorial sea and this has not been changed. However, Congress passed an act on October 14, 1966 establishing a nine-mile fishery zone contiguous to the territorial sea of the United States. The United States exercises in this zone the same exclusive rights in respect of fisheries as it has in its territorial sea. The status of the waters of the zone as high seas is not changed otherwise. For the reasons which prompted Congress to extend the exclusive fisheries jurisdiction to 12 miles, you may wish to examine the report of the Committee on Commerce of June 12, 1966 on S.2213. The report is number 1280.

Floodtide Now Can Ebb....

Congratulations Elm Creek Water-shed voters!

A floodtide of rains, good planning and a few editorials raised a 184-72 vote favoring the Elm Creek Watershed bonding program.

It has been 10 years since efforts for passage of a program for construction of dams in the Bell-Milam-Falls-McLennan County watershed began. They found the property owner support lost in two previous elections.

This election Tuesday was obviously the last chance for the project. Like the drowning man (in this case in his own unprotected fields), watershed property owners went down for the third time and came up with a life preserver.

To say it was critical for the sub-district carved out for this final run is understatement. Some voters told people in Cameron that water in the fields decided their vote for the issue.

At stake was a $300,000 bond issue which would be supported by a $8.2 million flood control program from federal sources through Farm Home Administration.

Directors of the Elm Creek Watershed, almost grim for the past few years after a second vote was turned down, were jubilant. Well they should be.

This project will mean construction of some 62 water control structures over the area roughly between Temple and Cameron north of SH 36.

Directors from the sub-district, including A. E. Matula, L. T. Slavik and Frank Kratochvil, of Cameron, were jubilant and appreciative of voter approval.

It will be about eight years before all the dam structures in the sub-district are built, but they will be built. The floods so common now will be harnessed in lakes for other use.

What Others Say ... An Ethics Code ...

The House of Representatives has adopted a code of ethics which can limit abuses of public trust and also serve as a guide to Senators who wish to improve their own, weaker regulations. Even the House code could benefit by inclusion of more of the stringent requirements on income disclosure which the legislative branch sets for officials in the executive branch.

On the whole, though, the House has taken a dramatic and long overdue step which reaches well beyond the mere appearance of action symbolized in the Senate bill. There is in both houses a general agreement that members of Congress must make limited reports on outside income. Colleagues (and voters) now have some way to determine possible conflicts of interest which can arise in legislative action.

The codes in both houses should be considered only as necessary starting points. The Senate regulations will not prevent repetition of the Dodd and Baker scandals which inspired them. Neither will the House code prevent conditions which led to the ouster of Adam Clayton Powell and public pressure of safeguards.

The way should be kept open for continuing examination and improvement—and, of course, careful watch to see that the new rules are followed. Such steps not only will protect the public but will protect conscientious members of Congress from having to share blame for colleagues who abuse the considerable power they have.

Session Accelerates As Mid-way|Mark Arrives

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN

Arrival at the mid-way mark in the 30-day special legislative session touched off an explosion of activity in key areas of spending, taxation and liquor by the drink.

Both House and Senate passed versions of the 1969 budget and went to conference committee to work out differences.

House passed by a narrow margin (78 votes to 67) Gov. John Connally's bill to permit liquor by the drink sales in mini-bottles under taxation and strict regulation.

House Revenue and Tax Committee sent out for debate and full House action Connally's $119 million tax package. This controversial measure hopefully will land in conference committee this week after amendments in both houses.

Representatives voted overwhelmingly for a $474 million general revenue budget, senators for a $479 million general fund appropriations measure. House version would require $132.6 million in new revenue, Senate bill $137.9 million. All phases of Connally's tax liquor by the drink legislation were designed to raise $127.2 million, so additional revenue must be found.

House fought a bitter battle over the mini-bottles bill which was combined with proposals of a sub-committee for strengthening liquor laws. Tax on little bottles and increased fees will produce over $8 million. An additional $6.5 million would come from a gross receipts tax on private clubs, as called for in Connally's tax bill.

Margin on mini-bottles in the Senate is said to be even closer than in the House. Poll takers said 14 to 15 senators would be counted as sure supporters.

A sales tax increase to three percent is certain to figure in the final tax package. This whether the legislature votes a straight rate hike or goes along with Connally's plan to raise the rate and rebate 75 percent of the take to cities (in lieu of their present local option sales tax levy). Connally also proposes to put sales tax on many services and cigarettes.

Mini-bottles bill would make one drink sized containers available in licensed hotels, clubs, restaurants, planes and trains. Sellers would have to do at least a third as much business in food sales as on liquor. Mini-bottles probably will be expensive, since they would carry a tax of about 10 and a half cents each. Sellers will have to pay the state permit fees ranging from $500 in the smallest towns to $1,250 in cities over 250,000. Furthermore, cities and counties can match the charge.

Bill also sets specifications for private clubs and raises fees, although it will allow managers and most other employees to issue guests cards to the drop-in trade and it authorizes credit card sales.

Legislation would further permit 16 year olds to sack beer in groceries and serve as bus boys where mini-bottles are handled. It would outlaw gambling, increase punishment for permitting minors to buy or consume alcoholic beverages, raise beer dealers' license fees from $30 to $150, provide for faster sale of confiscated liquor by the state and make most of the Texas Liquor Control Board records available to public inspection.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

I don't know that this is very important, but there are so many starkly important things staring us in the face from one side of the world to the other these days that when a man runs across an unimportant one he ought to grab hold of it. There aren't too many of them left.

At any rate, I read an article on an inside page of a newspaper last night about a motorist in England who refused to pay a 12-cent toll to cross a bridge because, he said, the tax was imposed 900 years ago by King Canute and couldn't possibly apply to a modern automobile. Despite the fact that since the year 1023 people have continued to pay the tax, he said, 900 years is long enough and he refused to pay. Of course they took him to court and made him pay anyway.

Clearly that man doesn't know the first thing about taxation.

He should have been grateful that King Canute thought up the idea of charging him only for crossing the bridge. Had Canute been on the ball he would have taxed a man to come onto the bridge, then taxed him an equal amount to get off the other end. Have you got time to figure up how much tax money England would have brought in during the past 900 years if that bridge tax had been 24 cents instead of 12? Probably could have made enough to have left the tax off of tea and vending machine companies under the Liquor Control Board, claimed a single coin machine controls controls hundreds of Texas taverns.

Coffey says 85 percent of taverns in Fort Worth owe money to the concern which operates under many names. He said the same conditions exist in most other cities. Vending machine chain, the district attorney testified, started with B&B Music Company in El Paso. Former LCB Administrator Coke Stevenson Jr. recommended regulation of the vending machine operators and that they be barred from the tavern business.

DRAFT QUOTA CUT

Texas draft quota for next month has been reduced by 266 men from June order to total of only 695.

However, State Selective Service headquarters reports that more than 5,300 will be called in for pre-induction physical and mental exams in July.

May call was 528 above the July figure, since additional manpower was needed for the Marine Corps. All July inductees will be for the Army.

saved us the trouble of holding Presidential elections.

Another thing that man doesn't know about taxation is that a tax's age has nothing to do with it. The longer ago a tax was thought up, the more used to it people become and the easier it is to collect. The easiest tax to collect is one that was thought up and put into effect before you were born. If we're smart we'll be figuring out some taxes now to go into effect just before the next generation arrives.

The fact that King Canute may have told his people that bridge tax was just a temporary measure till England got on its feet, has nothing to do with it.

Any man who has studied the matter knows that there's nothing more temporary than a permanent wave or more permanent than a temporary tax.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Little River Baptist Plans Revival Service

Little River Baptist Church of Jones Prairie will hold annual revival services June 30 - July 6. Dr. John Davidson, professor of religion at Baylor University, will be the evangelist.

Mrs. Ann Curtis, wife of pastor Ben Curtis, will direct the singing and provide special music. Services will be held nightly at 8 p.m.

Dr. Davidson is a native of Texas, a graduate of Southwestern Seminary and earned his Ph. D. in psychology at the University of Texas. He served as a pastor for several years before going to Baylor as a professor of religion. Dr. Davidson has received special training in counseling, and he has held family life conferences in churches throughout Texas. His messages will relate God to the personal problems of life.

Once you take a really close look at this '68 Impala Custom Coupe, chances are you won't care what other people's 1969's are going to look like. But we'll tell you anyway.

This particular model—with its formal "notchback" roof line—is the most popular one we build. Which means it's by far the most popular '68 anybody builds. Which means (and this is an open secret around Detroit these days) some other cars are going to look a lot like it in '69.

Frankly, we're kind of used to being borrowed from this way by now. Whether it's styling, riding comfort or just plain painstaking workmanship, we know that putting you first keeps us first. And we can't blame other carmakers for wanting to catch up.

But meantime the thing for you to do is drop down and have a talk with your Chevrolet dealer now. Great as our styling looks on this '68 Impala, we can't promise it's going to look so good on a '69 something else.

Happening now at your Chevrolet dealer's, a tremendous explosion of extra buying power. Only the leader could make it happen.

Save on popular V8 engines, automatic transmissions, whitewall tires—and more. Just take a look at these five bonus savings plans. Then see your Chevrolet dealer.

Aces Take 9-5 Win Over Tough Thorndale Team

On Wednesday, June 19, two rivals met in Pony League action in Thorndale. The Aces were led at the plate by Richard Cummings' four hits, Ronnie Richardson's three hits, Marvin Young and Dale Schmitz two hits each, Mike Darelle on the mound.

The Aces broke out of a mild hitting slump to take 15 hits off Ronnie Paris. The Aces were led at the plate by Richard Cummings' four hits, Ronnie Richardson's three hits, Marvin Young and Dale Schmitz two hits each, Mike Darelle and David Horning with one each.

Raymond Leschber got two of the four hits for Thorndale and Ronnie Paris and Kenneth Gilchrist each got one hit.

Temple Country Club Partnership Tournery Will Open Saturday

Local golfers are extended an invitation to compete in the 6th annual Temple Country Club low ball amateur partnership tournament June 29 and 30. There will be no limit on the number of entries as in past years since the TCC course has been lengthened to a full 18-holes.

All college and university team players will be required to play in the championship flight. All other teams must qualify with an 18-hole round on Saturday, June 29. This qualifying score will determine flights.

The Saturday score plus the Sunday 18-hole score will determine flight winners in all but the championship flight. The championship flight will play 18 holes on Sunday to determine winners.

Prizes will be pro-line golf equipment, and there will be first and second place prizes in each flight. A minimum of four flights are expected, with more flights being added if there are enough entries. Entry fee is $15 for each player, $30 per team. This entry fee includes a noon buffet on Sunday. Additional tickets for wives and other guests will be available at time of registration.

Deadline for entering is 2 p.m. Saturday, June 29. Pre-registration with entry fee is requested, but not required. Mail entries to Temple Country Club, P.O. Box 337, Temple, Texas.

HemisFair Sidelights Go From Free Bananas To 30-lb. Stirrups

There are so many highlights to the San Antonio World's Fair visitors have to keep a watchful eye for the sidelights—too numerous to be listed but too interesting to miss.

There is always talk about the fabulous $50 million in art treasures from Spain, the nearly 500-year-old fresco of Amerigo Vesputi and the controversial film on the world's largest screen at the United States Pavilion.

But, it takes a wandering fair visitor to discover the Swiss Boutique with walls of musical and cuckoo clocks, each set at different times to keep from driving the shopkeeper deaf.

The same is true for visitors to the Panama Pavilion, most of whom have heard about the working scale model of the Panama Canal.

Upon entering they find a 40-pound stalk of bananas which, as they pine, are nipped at a bunch at a time, to fair visitors.

Diamond Cutter
Those who go into the Belgium Pavilion to watch the diamond cutter at work are awed by a brilliant collection of diamonds including the world's smallest cut diamond, which is viewed through a microscope.

At the United States Exhibit Hall, sports fans are finding a very interesting collection of equipment from sports heroes—such as Ty Cobb's bat and Joe Louis' boxing gloves—and the kaleidoscope effect drawn from the Mexico Pavilion in its three-film presentation on a series of mirrored screens is a must for the visitor.

Actually, Mexico and the $10 million Institute of Texan Cultures offer the best opportunity for "sidelight seeking."

The Mexico Pavilion includes objects from as early as 400 A.D., a beautiful altar taken from a church in the interior of Mexico, a room full of modern art and numerous items from the 15th through 17th centuries.

The Texas Pavilion spares nothing in tracing the 25 ethnic cultures to present day Texas and each section of the sprawling exhibit area has its sidelights to see. "Ezekiel Airlines"

Visitors learn that two years before the Wright brothers made their first flight, a Texan was selling stock in Ezekiel Airlines.

Guidelines Help In Selecting Cantaloupes

Is selecting cantaloupe at the grocery store a guessing game?

These guidelines from Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension specialist in consumer marketing, can help select good, ripe melons nearly every time by looking at the outside of a melon.

Only a mature melon will be sweet, fine textured and have perfect flavor, according to the Texas A&M University specialist.

The important thing then is to learn to recognize the full ripe stage.

A mature cantaloupe breaks from the vine with slight pressure leaving a slightly sunken, smooth, well-calloused scar at the stem end. Less mature melons come off less readily and leave a rough scar, with an occasional portion of stem remaining on the melon.

Distinctive, pronounced cantaloupe fragrance goes along with a ripe melon. If it smells good, it usually is good.

The netting on the surface of a firm, mature melon will be raised, coarse, corky and stand out in bold relief over the surface of the cantaloupe. A change in color from green or grey-green to yellow indicates ripeness.

Take a good look at today's farmers and ranchers...

They look a lot different than they used to.

In Texas and other parts of the nation, today's farmers and ranchers are businessmen. The farms and ranches they work are bigger, more automated and better managed than ever before.

Texas Power & Light Company helps farmers and ranchers in its service area stay well-informed on the latest advances in the expanding field of agri-science...advances which have helped them raise their production to an all-time high.

Demonstrations of the newest methods in improving livestock quality, soil fertility and rural communities are continually being presented throughout the TP&L service area by the Company's alert agricultural development team. These efforts, along with related community and area development programs, help increase agricultural production and incomes with less dawn-to-dusk labor.

TP&L is proud to be helping rural families live, work and relax on the farm or ranch of the future...today.

Cameron Teacher At Oklahoma Workshop

NORMAN, Okla.

Forty-three people from seven states are participating in the University of Oklahoma's Workshop on Education in Family Finance which runs through July 26 at the Oklahoma Center for Continuing Education.

Mrs. Willie Jean Henderson, O. J. Thomas home economics teacher, is attending from Cameron. Dr. Gerald Porter, professor of education, is director of the workshop, which began June 17.

Emphasis in the program, which is designed for teachers and school administrators, is on developing ways to prepare young people to deal adequately with the financial problems of adult life.

Study topics for participants include financial planning, borrowing and buying on credit, Social Security and pension plans, consumer spending, savings and investment, taxation, home ownership, insurance and wills and estates.

COOLER STORAGE

After that family picnic is over be sure and wash the inside of your cooler to prevent unpleasant odors. However, don't dunk an insulated cooler, water might damage the insulation or cause rust in steel models. Store the cooler in a dry place with the lid partly open so it can air out.

Guar Meal Test For Dairy Cows

Guar meal, whether raw or processed, apparently has no special advantages or disadvantages in rations for lactating dairy cows. Dr. R. E. Leighton of the Texas A&M University Animal Science Department said recent feeding trials showed that use of guar meal produced no significant differences in solids-corrected milk production, flavor, fat, proteins or total solids percentage in milk.

Guar is a dual purpose summer legume well adapted to Texas conditions. The plants make good roughage and are effective soil conditioners. Guar has drought-resistant qualities and is becoming more popular as a cash crop in Southwest Texas.

The seed is an excellent source of a gum for a variety of industrial uses. After the gum is extracted, a high protein meal is left which is suitable for livestock feeds.

Leighton said lactating dairy cows were fed concentrate rations containing 15 percent soybean, cottonseed, raw guar and processed guar meals. No major differences were noted in milk flavor, fat, protein or percentage of total solids.

Digestion coefficients and protein coefficients also averaged about the same.

No marked differences in palatabilities of rations containing either raw or processed guar meal, or cottonseed meal were noted in group-fed, or after the second day, in stall-fed cows.

Leighton said calf-starter mixtures with flavored, processed guar and cottonseed meals showed slightly better rates of intake and gain than unflavored, processed guar for the first 30 days only.

Army Offers NCO Study To Volunteers In Artillery Program

Young men who enlist in the U.S. Army for assignment to artillery can volunteer for an intensive program of study to earn sergeant's stripes, skills and pay.

According to Army recruiter, Sgt. Bill Warren, those selected on the basis of their ability should receive immediate promotion to corporal and then trained to move on up to sergeant and staff sergeant grade.

"These young men are the vanguard of a new breed of non-commissioned officers," the sergeant said. "The Army has recognized the educational background and leadership potential of its modern recruit and has designed an intensive training program around him to supply the noncommissioned officers it needs," he added.

The theory behind the training is similar to the concept which fostered officer candidate schools more than 25 years ago. OCS proved so successful that the courses continue today.

Young men interested in such career opportunities are invited to discuss the possibilities with Sgt. Bill Warren. His office is located at 17 West Ave. A in Temple.

County Agent's Notes ...

County Reports Screwworm Case

By J. D. Moore

Arnold Kornegay, Rt. 1, Gause, sent in a sample of worms this week to the Mission Lab that was confirmed as screwworms. County stockmen are urged to keep a close check on their cattle and send in worm samples as they occur. Bottles for mailing the samples are available from your V-Ag teacher, veterinarian, or the county agent's office.

The success of this program depends on the cooperation of our stockmen. Cattle and calves are grown on most of the farms in Milam County. Total sales will approach five million dollars in 1968. This is the leading agricultural enterprise in Milam County. Your assistance will be appreciated.

BLACKLAND FIELD DAY

Tours will leave from the experiment station south of Temple beginning at 7:30 a.m., on Thursday, June 27.

The tour will show sunflower production, cotton herbicides, cotton variety test, corn variety test, grain sorghum varieties, flax trials and fertilizer test. The tour will end by noon.

COTTON INSECT REPORTS

Wilburn Beckhusen, June 15, fleahoppers moving in from host plants. Recommend to spray with light dosages of Dylox or Sevin, just to control the fleahoppers.

Frank Kratochvil, June 17 thrrips light, fleahoppers two per 100 terminal, boll worm light. Few square worms, less than 1 percent weevil punctures. Cotton fruiting well.

Gene Klein, Burlington, June 18, thrrips light, 12 percent fleahoppers, have seen two or three boll worms, have not seen any boll weevils.

The county agent wrote A&M entomologists a couple of weeks ago for the information on how to deal with these early boll worms. The following is their answer: "In general, we feel that an early boll worm population should be kept under surveillance; however, if the population does not rise above 8 percent and eggs are not being deposited at the time they are discovered the worms should be allowed to go on through their life cycle. In this way you can let the beneficial insects build up in the field and yet not experience damage which will result in a reduced yield. As far as the fleahoppers are concerned, it would be advisable to stay with the low rates of the insecticides which we have recommended for control of these insects. Dylox, Strobane, DDT, Toxaphene-DDT and a low rate of Sevin have given very satisfactory control in fleahoppers without significantly reducing the beneficial insect population."

Sorghum midge: Mostly low counts this week. A&M entomologists feel that the first crop of midge will be light. A new guide for poisoning is when you find one midge per head in 50 heads of maize.

Turkeys Tops On July Foods List

The turkey industry is having its July "Summer Turkey Cook-out" program, says the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

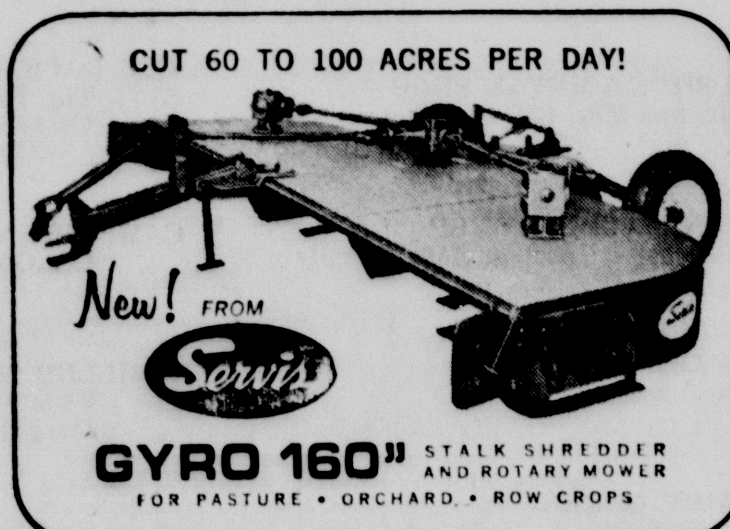

Turkey meat is in abundant supply at prices favorable to your pocketbook. Keep turkey in mind for poultry recipes. Plan a mid-week turkey meal for a culinary change of pace.

Eggs, summer vegetables, peaches, plums, watermelons and vegetable fats and oils are the other foods reported plentiful, says the USDA.

July egg production is expected to be only slightly below last year's output. You might want to try fixing an egg and turkey salad for a tasty combination.

Such vegetables as celery, lettuce, green beans, green peppers, summer squash, tomatoes and cabbage are available in plentiful volume, says the USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service.

Peaches, plums and watermelons will be above average in supply. Summer is the ideal time to eat cold, cold slices of peaches and watermelons.

The Gyro 160" mows and shreds 60 to 100 acres per day—six 30" rows or four 40" rows—costs less for fuel, labor and maintenance than ordinary shredders. It's all gear-box driven without V-belts or chain drives. One-piece, welded frame adds strength and durability. Adjustable skid shoes prevent scalping. Recommended to work with tractors having 35 H.P., to 120 H.P. ratings.

Medicare Handbook Dairy Council, Inc. Revised To Show Opens Austin Office Changes In Coverage

During the past four weeks, people over age 65 who are under Medicare have been sent a copy of the newly revised Medicare Handbook. It is completely revised to include all the changes made in hospital and doctor bill coverage under Medicare by the 1967 amendments to the law.

Jack Calvert, district manager of the Temple Social Security Office, says that the new Medicare Handbook highlights the improved protection these aged persons now have. It has also been made easier to read and understand.

In preparing this new edition of "Your Medicare Handbook," the social security office asked for the suggestions of elderly readers as well as experts in the field of communications and representatives of professional organizations, Calvert added.

Delivery of the new red, white, and blue edition to the nearly 20 million Americans 65 years of age and over was completed on a staggered mailing basis. Anyone in this area who has not yet received their copy of the new Medicare Handbook can get a copy by contacting the Temple Social Security Office, Calvert said. There's no charge, of course, he concluded.

Right Electric Motor For Job Saves Money COLLEGE STATION

A few extra dollars spent initially for the right electric motor for a given job may pay off many times in trouble-free operation and long motor life, says W. S. Allen, Texas A&M University Extension agricultural engineer.

There are 18 different types of cases or enclosures for electric motors and at least four of them are suitable for farm use, he points out. The way a motor is enclosed determines its ability to withstand moisture, dust and explosive gases, he adds.

The four types which cover most farm uses are:

1. Open drip-proof — A general purpose motor used in dry locations, relatively free of splashing liquids and dust particles. It is the most common and least expensive of the four types of enclosures.

2. Splash proof — For use out of doors, if covered when not in use, and in installations where washing down of equipment causes water to be directed toward the motor.

3. Totally enclosed — For use where dust and foreign particles are in the air, such as outdoor operations on augers, elevators, etc.

4. Explosion proof — Designed to prevent ignition of any explosive gases which may collect around the motor. It also keeps out dust and dirt and is the most expensive of the four types.

A qualified dealer, electric power supplier representative or an engineer can advise on the right motor to use, says Allen.

PRE-COOL COOLERS

For summer picnics you can increase your cooler's performance by pre-cooling with a few pounds of ice for an hour before you pack it and by refrigerating the food and drinks that will be placed in it.

ASCS

by Alva E. Sanders

The wheat program and acreage allotment for the 1969 crop year has been announced.

The 1969 wheat allotment is down 13 percent from the 59.3 million acres in effect for the 1968 crop year. Diversion payments at the maximum rate authorized by law will be offered to farmers for planting less than their acreage allotment and diverting this land to conserving uses.

Price support loans on the 1969 crop wheat will continue to be available at the national average of $1.25 per bushel. Total price support equal to 100 percent of parity (as of July 1, 1969) will be available on 43 percent of the cooperating farm's projected production on its allotted acreage. This compares to 40 percent in 1968. Domestic marketing certificates will make up the difference between parity and the loan rate.

For 1969, a farmer may divert up to one-half his acreage allotment and will receive 50 percent of the county loan rate times the allotment acres diverted, times the projected yield. Farms with 1969 allotments 21.7 acres or less will be able to divert the entire allotment for payment.

Farmers signing up in the voluntary program can qualify for price-support loans and purchases, domestic marketing certificates, payments for diverting acreage below their allotments and an alternative cropping option. If a farmer signs up in both the wheat and feed grain programs, he may substitute between wheat and feed grain acres at his option.

A farmer can become a 1969 wheat program cooperator by signing up in the program; remaining within his allotment; devoting to conserving use that acreage designated as his regular conserving base, plus the acreage represented by the approximate difference between the 1968 and 1969 allotments, as well as acreage diverted for payment; planting within his acreage allotment for any other allotment crops on the farm; and remaining within the wheat allotment on any other farm in which he holds an interest.

These HANDS of MINE

Whether building a life or a skyscraper is involved, a clear understanding of the project is necessary... a plan must be in mind. The man who starts to raise a family without first considering his earning power, cost involved and the necessity for God's help — faces serious difficulty. To correctly raise a building an architect, blueprint and a builder are essential. To properly build a man — prayer, Bible reading, Sunday school and church attendance are good tools to work with. To calculate the pitch a roof must be easy but without God's help, to determine the worth of a young life is impossible. Architects design houses. Builders put them together. But only God can build a man out of a boy. The church, through these firm hands of mine, pictures to humanity the world's greatest designer... Jesus the Christ. World builders could not get along very well without Him. He has never poured a bad foundation, nor laid a sill out of level, nor raised a wall off plumb. "Except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain who build it," Psalms 127:1.

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU
Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are molded with benevolent and helpful influences for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the individual finds the opportunity to develop his character. Therefore today declare the efforts of your life to the church of our choice. Let our children know that the church of our choice is a combination for good. Be a regular church-goer and a daily Bible reader.

ALERT FOR SCREW-WORMS

The number of screw-worm cases in the Southwest continues to increase and is the highest since 1963. Weather conditions continue to be near ideal for the propagation of this costly livestock pest. Official of the eradication program continue to emphasize the importance of livestock producers checking their animals at frequent intervals and submitting worm samples from all infested wounds.

By Mrs. Wanda Lee

We at the Baptist Church completed our Vacation Bible School Sunday night with our commencement exercises. Each class took part on the program.

The enrollment for the Bible School was 35. We had a very good school and everyone who took part in it seemed to enjoy it very much. We who worked with the children certainly appreciate everything that was done to help make the school a success.

The next thing the children will be participating in will be the camp at Highland Lakes Baptist Encampment in Austin in July.

Mr. and Mrs. Blake Bailey and Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Zajick, Lisa and Suzann spent several days last week on a trip that took them first to Sonora where they went through the caverns, then on to Ft. Davis where they toured the old fort which has been restored. After that stop they went to McDonald Observatory and then to Presidio and on to Big Bend before returning home. The Zajicks left this week for Anchorage, Alaska.

Last week Martha and Patti Wise, Joan, Mary Lou, Janice and David Kornegay, Beverly Kornegay and Debbie and Janice Kornegay attended the Lost Pines Apostolic Church Camp in Warda, Texas.

Recent visitors with Mr. and Mrs. I. V. Wise included Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Modesette and son of West Plains, Mo., Olen Modesette and two sons of Bellaire, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Martin and family of El Campo, Captain and Mrs. Glenn Wise of Bixton, Miss., who came by moving to Austin where the Air Force will be sending his to school at the University of Texas, and Mr. and Mrs. James Griffin and two sons of Sitska, Alaska.

Jim Lee and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dworaczky, Larry and Garry of San Antonio spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Lee, Craig and Kelly.

The Homer Colliers returned home last Monday from a trip to San Antonio where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Walter Collier and children and attended the Billy Graham Crusade at Alamo Stadium. They also attended church with their children at the Castle Hills Baptist Church.

Miss Toni Saladino of Bryan spent the weekend with Miss Bryan Cass.
Wednesday visitors with Mrs. Mae Fowler were her sister, Mrs. Will Lake and Mrs. Sutter of Cameron.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Alexander and Margie Nan spent last Friday in Houston with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Glen Alexander and Joel Glenn.

Mrs. Emma Lou Godkin of Houston visited last week with her mother, Mrs. Laura Rains and other relatives. She was returning home from Austin where she had taken her examination to be a beauty school instructor.

Ronnie Mabe and two friends of Corpus Christi visited recently with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Mabe. Mr. Mabe was in the hospital at this time but is now home and feeling much better.

The boys also attended a Coon Hunters Association meeting.

Saturday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Alanzo Edwards were Mr. and Mrs. Walters and children of Pflugerville.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Coats, Sherri, Ray and Kevin visited relatives in Houston Sunday and went to a baseball game Monday at the Astrodome.
